Baton Rouge, La. (June 18, 2020) – Capital Area United Way partnered with L&T Technology Services Ltd, a global pure play engineering and R&D services provider, to feed frontline workers at St. Vincent de Paul. Lunch was provided by Mestizo Louisiana Mexican Cuisine.

“We are thrilled to partner with L&T Technology Services Ltd as it is a natural fit,” said Amey Shortess Crousillac, Vice President of Resource Development at Capital Area United Way. “With mutual business relationships in the Greater Baton Rouge area, we both share an interest in connecting our communities to ensure their needs are met both during the COVID-19 pandemic and long after.”

“Over several years, Baton Rouge and the great state of Louisiana have given us some great tech talent and opportunity to do business,” said Samir Bagga, Customer and Community Impact, L&T Technology Services Ltd. “At LTTs, we consider it our responsibility to develop, nurture & support the community that has given us so much. This is a small gesture toward that endeavor. We thank the staff of St. Vincent de Paul for going above & beyond the call of duty to attend to the less fortunate, in these challenging times.”

The staff at St. Vincent de Paul has continued to provide services to the under resourced and homeless in our community. Their work consists of serving to-go meals, providing night shelter and filling prescriptions for people who rely on them for survival.
